

15 Killed as Jet Crashes; 2 Go On To Set Record

WESTOVER AFB, Mass. (UPI)—A giant jet strato-tanker crashed and exploded on takeoff early today, killing all 15 men aboard. Two sister ships streaked across the Atlantic and set new speed records.

Six newsmen were among the victims aboard the three-million-dollar plane which snapped two 115,000-volt power lines, bounced or skidded across a super highway and landed with a burst of flames in a cornfield.

THE OTHER VICTIMS included several crew members and two representatives of the National Aeronautics Association.

Chicapee Policeman Richard Taslam, one of the first persons on the scene, radioed his headquarters that "there is no need for any ambulances. Nobody on board had a chance."

While tragedy marred the start of the transatlantic flight, triumph crowned the finish. The other two strato-tankers spanned the ocean in record times.

THE PLANES WERE dubbed Alpha, Bravo, Cocoa and Delta for the mission designed to thump U. S. air might. Cocoa crashed. As result of the accident, Delta never took off.

Alpha thundered across the Atlantic in five hours, 27 minutes and 42.8 seconds—an average speed of 630.2 miles per hour. Bravo trailed Alpha by about two minutes, making it in five hours, 29 minutes, 37.4 seconds—an average speed of 626.5 m.p.h. Both planes broke the old record set in 1955 by a British Royal Air Force Canberra jet bomber.

WITHIN SECONDS after takeoff from this Air Force base at 12:30 a.m. (e.d.t.), the third plane in the flight crashed and disintegrated in a brilliant ball of fire that turned darkness into daylight.

"It was brighter than daylight. It was the most awful thing I ever saw," said farmer Kazimierz F. Machowski, whose three-acre corn field was set ablaze by the flaming plane.

THE DEAD NEWSMEN included Norman J. Montellier, 37, New York, No. 2 man of the United Nations staff of United Press International; Robert B. Sibley, 57, veteran aviation editor of the Boston Traveler, and retired Brig. Gen. A. Robert Ginsburgh, 63, who since 1933 had been chief military writer for U. S. News & World Report magazine.

The others were James L. McConaughy, Jr., 40, chief of Time magazine's Washington Bureau and son of a former Connecticut governor; Daniel J. Coughlin Jr., 31, of the Boston bureau of the Associated Press, and Glen A. Williams, 45, Bethesda, Md., also of the U. S. News & World Report.

THE ONLY NEWSMAN on one of the two planes that successfully completed the flight was Sam Kuczun, Springfield, Mass., bureau manager of United Press International.

As he boarded his plane, some of the other newsmen shouted "see you back here tomorrow." Only an hour or so before the crash, Sibley said in a radio interview that the flight was "no stunt" and that he hoped to broadcast en route.

THE AIR FORCE opened an investigation into the crash but a spokesman said it probably would be "a week or more" before the cause was known.

Though the plane hit the high voltage wires paralleling the Massachusetts Turnpike, a spokesman for the Western Massachusetts Electric Co. said he did not believe the wires "shocked" the plane because the craft was not grounded.

The wires were about 40 feet off the ground and 150 feet from one side of the four-lane highway.

BRIG. GEN. DONALD W. Saunders, 45, a native of Athens, N.Y., and a veteran of 25 World War II Pacific combat missions, commanded the flight. The doomed plane was piloted by Lt. Col. George M. Broussas, 39, Brattleboro, Vt., one of the most experienced airmen in the Eighth Air Force, Strategic Air Command. He had logged 8,126 flying hours.

Additional Money Pledged To Stop Sandblasting on 99

The State Highway Commission has agreed informally to furnish additional money for work along U. S. Highway 60-70-99 in Riverside County to prevent extensive automobile damage from blowing sand.

The highway, constructed about three years ago, has been controversial since that time because of 40-mile-an-hour winds which drive sand at speeds which strip the paint from passing automobiles.

COMMISSION VICE Chairman C. H. Warlow, Fresno, told Assemblyman Lee Backstrand (R-Riverside) that the commission had agreed informally to furnish more money if needed to battle the sand-blast problem.

"However, we're just as confused about it as everyone else appears to be," he said. "We don't want to spend a lot of money and get no results."

BACKSTRAND APPEARED before the commission to ask the state Division of Highway to "move a little faster" in solving the problem.

He estimated that damage to automobiles along the 14-mile stretch of road reached an annual total of between $1,500,000 and $6,000,000. Insurance companies in the area have estimated the damage officially at approximately $4,000,000.

STATE HIGHWAY Engineer George T. McCoy admitted that stopping the sand was "not an easy problem," but said engineers were trying to find a solution.

Chambers of Commerce from Palm Springs to Indio, and City Councils from both of the incorporated areas have sent resolutions to the commission asking that something be done about the problem.

No Filibuster

Alaska Statehood Opposition Fades

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Southern opposition to the Alaska Statehood bill appeared to be diminishing somewhat today.

As the Senate went into its fourth day of debate on the vigorously contested measure, several senators still were expected to speak at length but any threat of a "filibuster" apparently had dissipated.

IN ADDITION, if the opponents had any plot to quickly kill the bill there were no visible signs of it.

Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-S.C.), one of the Senate's most durable orators, took to the floor last night and started what had been expected to be a marathon speech against the statehood issue.

But after only two hours and 10 minutes, Thurmond quit talking. He was persuaded to do so by Sen. Mike Mansfield (Mont.), the acting Senate Democratic leader.

MANSFIELD HAD conferred previously with Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.), one of the chief opponents of statehood for the territory.

All three denied there was any "deal" involved in Thurmond's decision to stop early. Thurmond said he still planned to speak further on the bill and Sen. George Malone (R-Nev.) was reported standing by with a 12-hour opposition speech.

BOTH THURMOND and Eastland, although insisting they had "no intention" of staging a filibuster, said they would continue to resist efforts to limit debate.

Mansfield said he hoped the Senate would finally get around to voting despite the legal objections Eastland raised against the bill.

Eastland's objections, which challenge the constitutionality of the bill and a proposal by Sens. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) to make Alaska a Commonwealth, were the only major roadblocks standing in the way of a vote on the statehood bill itself.

Preliminary School Budget Upped to Over $2 Million

The Board of Education last night approved an additional $31,493 to the 1958-59 fiscal budget bringing the total budget for the operation of the Palm Springs Unified School District to more than $2,000,000.

A five page addenda was presented to the board by the school administration listing all the additions to the preliminary budget.

FOLLOWING ITS approval by the board last night, the budget will be sent to the county superintendent of schools for his approval.

The administration asked for board approval of a total expenditure and reserve program of $2,014,675, compared with last year's budget of $1,818,215, an increase of $196,460.

As in the original preliminary budget, teachers salaries took the biggest leap, hitting a new total of $1,232,634; auxiliary services were increased $1,350 over the first budget release to a total of $87,305; and capital outlay was up $13,152 to a total of $128,325.

ALTHOUGH LAST night the recommendation was for a $13,000 increase in the capital outlay fund, it is the one department that was decreased from last year's budget of $223,139.

Reflected in the budget as a heavy increase for this coming year will be the average daily attendance in Palm Springs Unified School District schools. Pupils are expected to jump by about 300 and will total somewhere near 3,246.

ONE OF THE biggest single additions to the budget last night was an appropriation of $10,000 for building improvement projects.

The administration is asking for a limited modification and enlargement of central offices (which means the possible building of more offices in the Frances Stevens auditorium), renovation of the wood shop and metal shop at the high school, limited modification of the basic electricity shop and drafting room and conversion of the old music building, establishing of counseling rooms at the High School, improvement of the physical education storage room at the High School, and further modernization of the Katherine Finchy kitchen.

Calvert Yacht Reaches Hakata

TOKYO (UPI)—A Japanese patrol boat today towed the yacht Thespian into the southwest Japan port of Hakata with its "embarrassed" skipper, Hollywood actor-magician John Calvert, four other persons, a French poodle named Duke and a chimpanzee named Jimmy.

The yacht, seven days overdue on a voyage from Formosa, was spotted by the Japanese coast guard vessel Isuzu off Cheju Island Thursday. It had been scheduled to arrive at Hakata June 20, but according to Calvert the engine went dead, the radio could not be used because its dynamo conked out, and there was not enough wind for the sails.

PACK 170, FATHERS TO HOLD OUTING SATURDAY NIGHT

Cubmaster Harry Mohr, of Palm Springs Pack 170, announced today that there will be a Father-Son outing at Tamarisk Park at 6 p. m., Saturday. Members of the Pack, their parents and all interested persons are invited to join in an evening of fun and entertainment, highlighted by a softball game between the fathers and their sons.

Conference Set

Board Postpones Major Decisions

Coachella Valley Junior College District Board of Trustees last night decided to postpone major decisions on establishment of the college until members had attended a "Conference on Junior College Planning" at Stanford University July 28 to Aug. 1.

Gail Brumwell, administrative assistant to the board, also will attend the meeting.

CONSENSUS OF THE board was that they would be in a better position following the meeting to attend to major problems, including: A survey to determine potential student enrollment; selection of a site; selection of a president through use of a screening committee composed of leading educators in Southern California; selection of an architect.

"I think we will know a lot more about our problems after we

Firing Breaks Out Today in Beirut, Tripoli

BEIRUT (UPI)—Sporadic firing broke out in Beirut and Tripoli today and the Lebanese Army brought armored cars and tanks into action against rebel snipers. The new outburst of violence followed a night of heavy fighting in both cities, timed by the rebels to coincide with the Moslem feast of Aid Al Adha. Six persons were killed in Tripoli Thursday.

REPORTS FROM Merjoun, in South Lebanon, said shells fired from the Syrian fortress at Banias fell inside the town Thursday night and seriously wounded four persons.

Rebels started sniping at mid-morning in Beirut behind the Defense Ministry. A few minutes later they opened up from nearby rooftops on army positions.

THE GOVERNMENT soldiers answered with rifle fire and one armored car and tank guns. There was no immediate report on casualties.

Adams Denies New Charges Made by Boston Publisher

WASHINGTON (UPI)—John Fox swore today that millionaire Bernard Goldfine told him he had "bought a house in Washington" for Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams. Adams denied the statement immediately.

Fox also testified Adams' friend Goldfine, a New England textile manufacturer, once offered a vicuna coat to the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and told McCarthy, "I buy vicuna coats for all the senators."

BUT HE ADDED that "Mr. Goldfine often talked a good bit bigger than the facts warranted." It was Fox's second day of testimony before a House subcommittee investigating the relations between Goldfine and Adams.

Adams has conceded he accepted a vicuna coat and other favors from Goldfine. He has denied allegations that in return he helped Goldfine in his numerous difficulties with regulatory agencies of the federal government.

THE NEW CHARGE by Fox, former Boston investment broker and promoter, came as House investigators cross-examined him on accusations he made Thursday that Adams had "taken care of" his friend Goldfine's troubles with federal agencies.

"After July, 1955," Fox said, "in a heated discussion with Goldfine, he told me he bought a house in Washington for Adams to live in."

THE INVESTIGATING subcommittee obviously had advance warning of Fox's new charge against Adams. Rep. Joseph P.

O'Hara (R-Minn.) immediately interrupted to read two letters into the record.

One was from O'Hara to Adams saying that a witness from Boston was going to testify that "Goldfine bought a house" for him and also purchased securities for the presidential aide.

The second letter was a vigorous denial by Adams of both accusations.

ADAMS WROTE that Goldfine "neither directly nor indirectly purchased a house of mine." "The house I live in," Adams wrote, "I rent."

THE DAY PRODUCED these other developments:

—Fox testified he received a $500,000 loan from Joseph P. Kennedy, father of Sen. Joseph P. Kennedy (D-Mass.), after throwing support of the Boston Post, which he published, to the younger Kennedy in the 1952 election campaign.

—Fox accused the Securities and Exchange Commission of having later committed "corporate murder" of the Post, now defunct, and of having done so "with malice aforethought."

U. S. Consul Ordered to Go to Scene

HAVANA, Cuba (UPI)—An armed rebel band raided the American owned Moa Bay mining properties on the north coast of Oriente Province Thursday night and kidnapped 10 Americans and one Canadian, United Press International learned today.

They were identified in first reports as technical personnel of the Freeport Sulphur Company, the Frederick Snare Corporation, and the Stebbins Corporation.

One of the Americans kidnapped was identified as a project consultant from the University of Minnesota.

The Moa Bay company is a subsidiary of Freeport Sulphur.

THE COMPANY presently is engaged in the construction of a 75 million dollar sulphuric acid plant for the extraction of nickel and cobalt.

The U. S. Embassy in Havana disclosed that it has ordered Consul Park Wollom to proceed to Moa Bay from Santiago de Cuba, on the south coast, where he is stationed.

A TENTATIVE LIST of the Americans kidnapped included J. R. Schussler, A. M. Ross, James Best, and Edwin Cordes, all of the Moa Bay Company; E. P. Tiller, the University of Minnesota consultant; A. A. Chamberlain and Roman Cecilian, of the Frederick Snare organization; and a Mr. Cannon, a Mr. Rosch and a Mr. Salmonson, all of the Stebbins Corporation.

Orient Province, where the kidnappings took place, has been the center of activity for rebel forces headed by Fidel Castro attempting to overthrow the government of President Fulgencio Batista.

Cafeteria Work Contract Given

Press Construction Co. of Palm Springs was awarded the contract for improvement of the Palm Springs High School Cafeteria Library at a low bid of $82,089, by the Board of Education last night.

The contract will include the rebuilding of the cafeteria building and covering of the patio next to the cafeteria building.

Architects Williams, Williams and Williams, who are handling the project, said that the project will be completed in about 60 days.

Russia Adds New Confusion To Nuclear Control Talks

LONDON (UPI)—The Soviet Union added new confusion to the Geneva scientific conference today by announcing the nomination of a top Romanian expert to participate in the talks on control of nuclear weapons tests.

The announcement indicated the Communist bloc still might attend next week's conference despite a previous threat to boycott the talks unless the United States agrees in advance to negotiate a formal suspension of all nuclear weapons tests.

MOSCOW RADIO Thursday night broadcast a report from the official Soviet news agency Tass that the name of Romanian professor Horia Hulubei had been submitted to the United States for approval as a conference participant.

The Tass report did not throw any more light on Moscow's threat Wednesday night to pull out of the conference. The conditions set by the Kremlin at that time would virtually doom the talks since the United States has said repeatedly that it would not agree beforehand to an end to nuclear tests.

AMERICAN OFFICIALS in Washington were divided on the question of Soviet attendance at the Geneva conference.

Some officials believed the Russian still might appear after squeezing all the propaganda value they could out of again trumpeting their demands for an immediate ban on nuclear tests.

OTHER U. S. officials felt that Russia had taken too firm a stand to reverse its threat to pull out. These officials believed that Moscow Radio's report on Hulubei simply was a belated transmission of a supplementary portion of a note to the United States, dated before the Kremlin's about-face on the conference.

The United States, in a note delivered in Moscow Thursday, accused the Russians of trying to back out of a previous agreement to take part in the technical talks scheduled to begin next Tuesday. The note said the United States planned to proceed with the conference "as agreed" and placed the responsibility on the Kremlin should the talks collapse.

Youth Group Enjoys Outing

CATHEDRAL CITY — Twenty-five members of the Cathedral City Youth Center enjoyed a trip to Huntington State Beach and Disneyland.

Chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Lou DeGrucio, Dick Krings and Lorraine Nowak, the group left by chartered bus at 7 a. m. Bing, Brother To Seek Pardon For War Hero

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Singer Bing Crosby and his brother, Larry, are planning to seek a pardon for a war hero, who attempted to rob Bing's pro-amateur tournament at Pebble Beach, Calif., last Jan. 13.

"Bing has told me to do my best to get a pardon for Colonel Blair," Larry said Thursday in announcing plans to file a petition of pardon with Gov. Goodwin J. Knight within a week.

MELVIN BLAIR, 42, a retired lieutenant colonel with 21 years of Army service, was overpowered by Sheriff's Deputy Tom Martin when he attempted to take $40,000 from a safe the officer was guarding.

The former Army officer, a decorated veteran of Merrill's Marauders during World War II and Korea, was convicted and imprisoned at China.

"He has a spotless service record," Larry said.

"WE BELIEVE that after strenuous service in two wars this man was not adjusted to civilian life. But we think that he can be, and he should not lose his citizenship rights and his pension."

Larry explained he and Bing did not interfere with the course of justice because they were not asked to appear at Blair's trial.

"Now we want to take the only avenue to help Colonel Blair," he said.

Authorities said Blair confessed attempting to rob the safe because he was in financial difficulties.

Top UPI Washington Reporter Checks State Political Scene, Talks to Candidates

(Editor's Note: When the voters elect a governor and a senator in California this fall they may well be altering the course of presidential politics in 1960. Merriman Smith, veteran Washington reporter for United Press International, has been in the state examining this volatile political scene and interviewing most of the principals. Here is a special report on the personalities and issues that will face the voters in November.)

By MERRIMAN SMITH United Press International
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A strange political storm is brewing in California and it may have a profound effect on the presidential campaign in 1960.

Republicans and Democrats are far from unified within their own parties as they approach one of the nation's most important off-year elections this November.

THEIR ONLY POINT of inter-party agreement seems to be that a Democratic victory in the state this fall would well impair the chances of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, a native son, to win the presidency in 1960: a Republican victory would help him.

The issues are complicated. Organized labor is riled up over a proposal to outlaw the closed shop, a proposal strongly supported by Republican William F. Knowland who is giving up his seat in the Senate to run for governor.

KNOWLAND'S POSITION on the proposed right to work law poses the question: Can Nixon, with his eye on the White House, come in to his native state this fall and support Knowland?

Knowland is running against Edmund G. Brown, Democratic attorney general who drew 600,000 more votes than the Republican senator in last month's primary.

SEEKING KNOWLAND's vacated senate seat are the Republican governor, Goodwin J. Knight, and Rep. Clair Engle, a doughy six-term Democratic congressman.

Engle, under California's cross-filing system got 514,225 more votes than Knight in the primary, but another Republican, George Christopher, piled up a primary total of 787,572 votes and presumably the larger share of these will shift over to Knight in the general election.

KNIGHT WANTS no part of Knowland's stand on right to work and says so. Engle wants to run as "a team" with Brown because of the attorney general's seasoned state organization, but Brown wants to go it alone.

Right to work undoubtedly is the dominant issue, but the name of Sherman Adams may figure in the voting. Knight is banking heavily on Adams departing from the White House well before the fall campaign. Knowland openly fears that continued public doubt over the assistant to the President might well "undermine" confidence in the national administration.

WITHOUT SAYING whether they have been advised from Washington, the top Republicans here seem convinced that Adams, because of his relationship with Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine, has become a political liability and will voluntarily step down from his powerful role at the White House.

The basic impression from talking individually with Knight, Brown and Engle in California this week (Knowland was in Washington) was that the California election this fall will be a matter of every man for himself.

ENGLE IS LESS than enthusiastic about the way Pat Brown siphoned off the best Democratic contributors in the primary, but he realizes Brown is the stronger Democratic candidate today. Engle says he and Brown will run as a team; Brown says he supports Engle solidly, but he's out for himself. "I won't take on Goodie Knight."

Engle's attitude toward Knowland is mixed, to put it mildly. He'll support the Republican ticket without specifically endorsing Knowland. He is firmly opposed to Knowland's stand on right to work and wants the voters to know it.

ENGLE WANTS a lot of top Democrats, including former President Truman and Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 and 1956 Democratic presidential candidate, out here to campaign for him; Brown doesn't. Knowland needs all the help he can get, but Knight is detectably unsold on the necessity of either President Eisenhower or Nixon entering his campaign.

Engle says vigorously that he wants Nixon's endorsement, but hasn't thought in terms of Nixon stumping the state for him. Told of a report that Nixon will make three speeches in California late in the campaign, Knight observed that this was considerably less than the vice president undertook in the last off-year elections in 1954.

MINDFUL OF THE high public interest in the Adams-Goldfine matter, Knight said it might not be much of an issue by November because "he (Adams) may not be there—he may resign."

Engle said he did not think Adams would be an issue between candidates, but he thought the matter would "make votes for the Democrats as it now stands."

"Adams has hurt the image of the Republican party," Engle said. "If I were in their shoes, I'd fire him."

ALTHOUGH THE candidates talked freely about the Adams matter because it was in the newspaper prominently, the big issue here still is right to work. Under California law, the voters, by petitions carrying more than

Honor Patrolman Admits Looting N.Y. Police Safes

NEW YORK (UPI)—An honor patrolman admitted Thursday night that he systematically looted two police patrol safes of almost $27,000, thus ending one of the most embarrassing mysteries in New York Police Department annals.

Patrolman Jean H. Jackson, 35, a Negro, admitted the thefts shortly before midnight after 10 hours of intensive questioning by some of the department's top brass. He was charged with grand larceny.

JACKSON, who won a commendation in 1955 for disarming and arresting four robbers, told his questioners he spent almost $1,000 of the pilfered funds on redecorating his Harlem apartment where he lived alone.

Some of the money went for several $150 suits and several pair of $28 shoes, he was quoted.

AUTHORITIES HINTED that Jackson, a member of the force since 1953, also spent a considerable amount on an unidentified girl friend. Married and the father of two children, he has been estranged from his wife the last 10 years, authorities said.

After confessing, Jackson led investigators to a friend's apartment and a metal box containing $13,443, representing approximately half of the stolen funds. Jackson insisted, however, that neither the friend nor anyone else knew what the box contained.

Air Pollution Gets Biggest Cut in Budget

Although the county 1958-59 budget session scheduled for 2 p.m., did not get under way until nearly three o'clock, the Board of Supervisors whizzed through budgets for 17 departments.

Only a few minor changes were made during the afternoon session with the exception of the air pollution control budget which suffered a cut of $24,906. Of this amount $18,505 was for salaries and $3,000 for travel expense.

The salary cut was recommended by Administrative Officer Robert T. Andersen pending adoption of air pollution control rules and regulations now under study.

Asked if it is his intent to use unappropriated reserve funds for salaries of personnel which will be needed when the control program gets under way, Andersen replied in the affirmative. The $5,000 request for travel expense was cut to $2,000 for the same reason.

Pie Pennies

CHURUBUSCO, Ind. —(UPI)—Mrs. Pat Crooks, wife of a cafe owner, dropped a penny in a gallon jar last year every time she baked a pie for local church and civic groups. This year she dumped 7,400 pennies into the lap of a merchant friend to pay for a typewriter — on April Fool's Day.

ON AN INSPECTION TOUR of the new Palm Springs High School Auditorium, members of the Board of Education, workmen, architects and school administrators are shown making the tour the day preceding the meeting of the board. Assistant Schools Supt. Jack Miles, left-back to camera, last night asked the Board to delay acceptance of the project until it was completed. There are some little jobs that have to be done, and there is no particular hurry at this time of the year in it being accepted. At left is School Supt. Wallace R. Muelder, who is listening to Stewart Williams, architect, explain some of the things that are yet to be completed. Board member Charles Wallace, second from right, joined the conference. Smog Is a Villian--Murderer of Crops

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of articles by the Riverside County Air Pollution Control District prepared in an effort to inform the public about air pollution.)

Damage to vegetation caused by air pollution has been well recognized during the past hundred years. This damage is caused by a small number of contaminants in relatively low concentration.

Dr. John T. Middleton, UCR chairman of the Department of Plant Pathology and a nationally recognized authority on smog damage to vegetation has repeatedly sounded the cry of alarm against this murderer. He made the first finding that smog is damaging Riverside County agriculture.

HE HAS SAID that "smog can threaten Riverside's position as the leading agricultural county in southern California." He has warned that "smog causes great damage to the west county's alfalfa crop. Polluted air causes the leaves to drop and the farmer's hay brings a greatly reduced price."

In August 1957, Dr. O. Clifton Taylor of UCR gave a report of the first scientific evidence that smog reduces growth of citrus. In July of this year Dr. Ellis Darby, UCR reported smog damage to crops in Bakersfield. So it goes, beans, peas and tomatoes and heavy damage.

IF WE ALLOW THIS murderer to continue to stalk the farms and the fields unabated, where will it stop? Smog is beginning to cost us too much money and strike at our food supply now! Quick, let's grow something else.

But wait! What other kind — the State of California Department of Public Health Report III — a progress report of California's fight against air pollution says,

"Plant damage heavy enough to be readily noted and extensive enough to represent a loss to growers has occurred in widely scattered and large areas of the state. It has affected field, flower, fruit ornamental, and vegetable crops, 44 kinds of plants commercially grown in California are now known to suffer heavy damage. They include such economically significant crops as alfalfa, beets, grapes and lettuce."

FURTHER DAMAGE is not limited to fields and orchards. Even plants in greenhouses, both commercial and experimental have been affected. In and near metropolitan centers, greenhouse plantings often need filtered air to grow normally.

How can one tell when the killer has been at work, munching on crops and destroying our food supplies? Two types of smog injury to vegetation have been recognized in our area, one due to gases (smog gas) and the other due to deposition of fog droplets (smog fog) on the leaves.

THE LEAF LESIONS due to smog are fairly characteristic, but all plants do not show the same response. In spinach the under surface of the leaf assumes a light-colored sheen which is described as silver leaf or bronzing. Soon the upper leaf opposite the silver-leaf area becomes light-colored and then extends through the entire leaf. The pattern of injury is also shown by beets, romaine lettuce, celery and many other plants.

In heavy smog, endive with its more delicate leaves often shows immediate and complete collapse.

Road to Famed Ramona Bowl May Be Improved

Inclusion in the 1958-59 road budget of regrading and resurfacing Columbia Street from Florida Avenue to Crest Drive in the Ramona Bowl area near Hemet, was requested this week by the Ramona Pageant Association, Inc., and owners of property along the road. The request was referred to the county road department.

Walter T. Lyell, president of the association, said hundreds of workers and patrons of the annual pageant and the Ramona Bowl Music Association summer concerts use the road.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. —(UPI)—The West Virginia Education Association reports that West Virginia teachers are seldom "old maids." Statistics showed that three-fourths of West Virginia women teachers are married — 25 per cent more than the national figure.

Sun Editorial Sent to Board Of Supervisors

A recent editorial in The Desert Sun headed "Arrogant Highway Commission to Get What It's Asking For" was lauded by the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce in a letter received by the Board of Supervisors this week.

The editorial was in the June 5 edition and was relative to the long-sought improvement of Highway 111.

Wrote Jimmy Cooper, C of C manager, "The editorial clearly depicts the policies of the highway commission, most of which are in total conflict with the wishes of the public. . . . Any cooperation you can give to bringing about a complete change of attitude and cooperation between the people of this state and the state highway administration will be sincerely appreciated."

The letter was referred to Supervisor George Berkey.

Indio Sanitation Problems Told County Board

Prompt action to annex contiguous territory to the Indio Sanitary District was urged by the district's governing board this week "because of unsanitary conditions of outhouses in a populated area and the fact that no one in the area can get a building permit from the city until sewers are put in, plus the danger of pollution to the water supply due to the rising water table."

The contiguous area is in the southern part of Indio in Section 26 of Township 5 South, Range 7 East, south of 46th Avenue.

The Board of Supervisors authorized county counsel to prepare the necessary resolution for annexation.

Change of Road Name Protested

A letter from Harold P. Machen, Los Angeles attorney, in behalf of his client, Lawrence Crossley, protesting the change of name of a road known as Crossley Road to Country Club Road was received by the Board of Supervisors this week and referred to the Planning Commission.

The road is located one-half mile east of the Palm Springs city limits, running south from Ramon Road to 34th Avenue. Machen said Crossley has spent in excess of $20,000 in maintaining it.

Mail Service To Be Extended

Mounted city delivery mail service will be extended to the 31-000 blocks of Avenida La Paloma and La Gaviota as soon as patrons in that area place mail boxes at curbside, four feet from the pavement in front of their homes, and have the boxes or houses properly numbered. Postmaster Merritt Williams announced today.

As soon as service is started, patrons are asked to notify correspondents and publishers of their correct addresses.

One in every six families in the United States has two or more automobiles, compared with one in 20 in 1948.

18 Initiatives to Be Decided By Voters at Fall Election

By JAMES C. ANDERSON

United Press International SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California voters in November will have to decide 18 ballot propositions ranging in importance from the controversial right-to-work initiative to a measure permitting members of the Legislature to hold the office of notary public.

The three most important measures are the very last ones on the lengthy ballot. All are initiatives. The other 15 already have been approved by the Legislature but still must be ratified by the people to become laws.

RIGHT-TO-WORK is in the 18th spot on the ballot. It is a constitutional amendment which would prohibit unions and employers from entering into agreements requiring a worker to be a member of a union as a condition to holding a job.

It is endorsed by William F. Knowland, the Republican candidate for governor, but is opposed by the Democratic candidate, Edmund G. Pat Brown, and by organized labor's leaders.

IN THE 17TH SPOT is a labor-backed initiative to cut the state sales tax from 3 to 2 per cent and to juggle personal income tax rates so those earning more than $50,000 would pay more.

Present income tax rates range from 1 per cent on incomes under $5,000 to 6 percent on incomes over $25,000. The initiative proposes a schedule starting with 1/2 per cent in incomes under $5,000 but jumping to 46 per cent on incomes over $50,000.

BOTH KNOWLAND and Brown are opposed to Proposition 17 and state finance experts claim it would upset the financial soundness of state government.

No. 16 is a new effort to repeal a state law which grants parochial schools exemptions from property taxes. The law was approved by the Legislature in 1951 and adopted by the people in the November 1952 election by a margin of more than 75,000 votes.

THE FIRST FOUR measures on the November ballot all deal with bond issues. No. 1 creates a 200 million dollar fund to continue the veteran's farm and home loan program. No. 2 calls for 220 million dollars in bonds to finance loans by the state to local school districts for classroom construction.

No. 3 would set up a 200 million dollar fund to finance construction to state colleges, prisons, mental hospitals and office buildings, while No. 4 is a 60 million dollar bond issue, 50 million for San Francisco Harbor development and 10 million to finance small craft harbors in both coast and inland areas.

OTHER MEASURES on the November ballot:

No. 5, permits legislators to fix their own salaries, limits it to a top of the average salary of county supervisors in the five most populous counties.

No. 6, requires state bond issue proposals to be published in newspapers before elections; No. 7, provides for operation of state government in event of a nuclear attack.

No. 8, PERMITS persons to vote for President and vice president after residing in California for 54 days; No. 9, eliminates 30-day recess during general sessions of Legislature; No. 10 speeds up condemnation of property for airports and schools.

No. 11, authorized counties and cities to issue bonds for streets and roads, repaying bonds from future gasoline tax revenues; No. 12, permits legislators to be re-elected; No. 13, makes office of superintendent of public instruction appointive instead of elective after 1962; No. 14, changes laws concerning pay of municipal or county officers during term of office; No. 15, repeals law which now prohibits boxing matches on Sunday or Memorial Day.

Good Color Used Properly Increases Value of Home

When you build a new house or remodel an old one, don't forget the importance of good color. Properly used, color can add greatly to the value of a house. Wrongly used, it can take value away.

IN AN ARTICLE in Practical Builder, a magazine for the light-construction industry, Miss Hargreaves lists important rules to help home builders use colors more effectively. Here are some of her tips:

1. Consider the outside and inside as related areas and coordinate their colors carefully. An abrupt change in color between the exterior and interior can lead to "color shock"—an undesirable sensation psychologically.

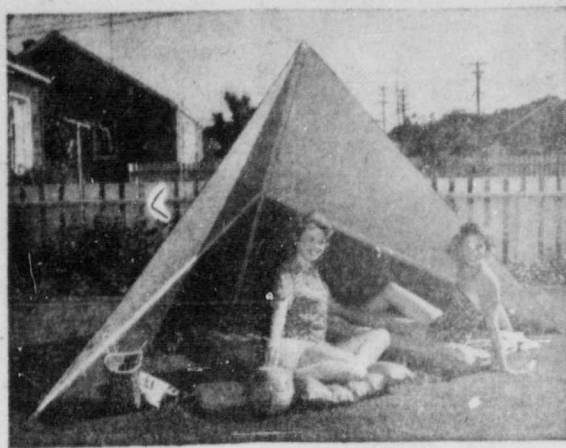

2. CHOOSE THE roof color first and choose it carefully, since all other colors inside and out should be related to it—even the accent colors on sofa pillows in the living room. The roof actually becomes the color "key" for the entire house.

3. Let the shape and size of the house decide on a light or dark color for the roof. Asphalt shingles in silver-gray, white, or a pastel will make a low house look taller and a dark roof tends to "lower" a tall house.

4. SIDEWALL COLORS can either blend with the roof color or be in a complimentary color that contrasts with the roof. A third harmonizing color can be used on trim, but three exterior colors are the limit.

5. Plumbing fixtures establish the color scheme for the bath. As color progresses outward from this core, fixture colors become the starting point for the entire interior color scheme. Because of this, plumbing fixtures should be in the same color "family" as the roof. This permits the outside and inside to "meet" harmoniously.

THESE YOUNG LADIES have a colorful windbreak and sun shelter which gives protection against breezes and allows comfortable sunbathing in the yard. Plan is available.

Tent-Like Sun Shelters Will Help in Control of Old Sol

For your place in the sun, you might choose this tent-like shelter which keeps unwelcome breezes away and lets you tan where you need it most.

The sun shelter is for the part-time sunbather who wants some sun, but not too much. You can move it around easily to keep up with old sol, and control the shade. If you want the baby out in the fresh air but don't want to "bake" him, shield the carriage with one of these shelters.

THE SUN SHELTER has two pie-shaped pieces, and it's easy as pie to build. You need two 4 by 8 panels of exterior-type fir plywood, plus some small lumber, a saw, and a few simple fastening devices.

Cut the panels from corner to corner, and flip the two halves over to the two 8-foot edges butt together. Nail a strip of 1 by 2 lumber to the edges and fasten the two halves together with hinges. Repeat the process with the other panel of plywood. Then, bolt the bases of the two "pies" to a center 2 by 2 with carriage bolts and wing nuts.

THEN, YOU ARE all through except for painting. Finish the shelters to match your disposition, your house, or your fence. Two coats of a good exterior enamel are recommended.

When the clouds or the calendar halt the sunbathing, you can fold your tent like an Arab and silently store it away. The whole thing collapses to a compact rectangle because it's put together with bolts and hinges.

A free construction plan which gives full details for the sun shelter may be obtained by writing Douglas Fir Plywood Association, Tacoma 2, Wash.

Gardening in the Desert

To the newcomers on the desert, the grounds of a local nursery is apt to become exceedingly tempting. Differing shades of green on the many types of young trees, some with eye pleasing colored blossoms, brings forth a mental picture of your own planned grounds—resplendent with graceful trees.

Pause a moment and meditate. That three to four foot Texas Umbrella will, in about four years have become an immense tree. It will be an excellent shade tree, around 18 feet high and have a spread of probably 25 feet.

will have been carted away and gardening worries; a more than ready for new plantings will be pleasant prospect. T.G.M.

Ample Work Area Is Prime Need In Kitchen Layout

The extension service of Purdue University has the following tips for planning work areas in kitchens:

For freedom of movement, a minimum of clearance of four feet is needed in front of each piece of kitchen equipment. Five to seven feet is more desirable.

At least one base cabinet, counter and wall cabinet should be adjacent to each major appliance—that is, refrigerator, sink and oven. The most efficient arrangement is a continuous production line of appliances with adjacent cabinets and counters unbroken by doors or traffic lanes.

For right-handed workers, the sequence normally progresses from right to left in this order: mixing center, sink center, range-serving center.

Recommended counter and cabinet space are: mixing center—refrigerator and 3 to 4½ feet for food preparation; sink center—sink bowl and 3 feet to the right for vegetable preparation and dish stacking, 2½ feet to the left for dish draining and drying; range center—range plus 1½ to 2 feet base cabinet, counter and wall cabinet for storing and serving.

Rockroses Are Easy to Grow

The Rockrose (cistus) is a noble shrub in that it asks very little and gives a great deal. According to the California Association of Nurserymen, it is a "natural" for many areas in the state. When established it is thoroughly drought-resistant. It actually prefers poor soil and will withstand hot sun and desert climate. Ocean winds will not affect it in the least.

The Rockrose is evergreen with an abundance of average size open white or pinkish flowers.

Wrought Iron Is Versatile On Old and New Structures

Ornamental wrought iron railings and columns find many uses, both inside and outside, on old and new structures.

Wrought iron railings may be used on both exterior and interior staircases and balconies, around porches, stoops, landings and platforms, "airing porches," swimming pools, etc., wherever an added touch of beauty is desired or danger of falls exists.

COLUMNS ARE manufactured in flat and corner types, the latter consisting of two flat columns at right angles to each other with a common corner "leg."

Properly constructed, wrought iron columns have ample strength to permit their use as structural members for supporting porch roofs, breezeways, balconies, canopies, door awnings, patio covers, etc.

Plan Room Now For Hobby as Interest Grows

As Dad's skill grows, he'll want more and more power tools to work with. Plan for enough room to take care of a portable hand saw, an electric drill, grinder and buffer, a sander, paint sprayer, and, of course, a "complete home workshop" power tool. Plan also for a lighting fixture, adjustable floodlamp, and outlets.

Properly planned, your garage can do much more than shelter your car. It can include a workbench, a complete home workshop, or a photographic darkroom. If your hobby is gardening, you may even find space for a small greenhouse, wired for the use of soil-heating equipment.

A corner of your garage can be converted into a darkroom, completely equipped with running water, enlarger, timer, safe light, electric mixer for chemicals, radiant-heating panel, ventilating fan. Good place for storing photographic lighting equipment such as photofloods, flash lamps, stands and reflectors.

Build Safety Into Homes, Expert Says

URBANIA, Ill. (UPI)—A top home safety analyst says that a 28,000 person-a-year home accident fatality rate makes it imperative to "build as much safety into the home as possible."

O. L. Hogsett, extension safety specialist at the University of Illinois, called upon homemakers to pay particular attention to the safety factors of their garage, roof and chimney, basement and attic, crawl space, kitchen, dining room and bedrooms.

Hogsett said bathrooms, storage closets, electrical wiring, plumbing and heating systems and areas easily accessible to rodents should also be checked regularly.

He said special care should be given to keeping dangerous objects such as knives and screwdrivers out of the reach of children, as well as light switches near tubs or water faucets.

Skip Lawson To Marry Pasadenan

Muriel (Skip) Lawson, formerly assistant publicist for the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce, will be married to Henry M. Moffat, Los Angeles attorney in August, it was announced this week.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Lawson of Magazine, Arkansas, the bride-elect has had a career in the business world which included being a Flying Tiger stewardess, publicist at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas, and secretary to Jerry Lewis.

She attended Drake University at Des Moines, Iowa, where she was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Iota, honorary music society. She recently returned from South America.

Her fiance, the son of Mrs. Edward S. Moffat of Pacific Palisades and the late Edward R. Moffat of Beverly Hills, is a graduate of Stanford University and Stanford Law School and affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Phi Delta Phi.

The pair will be married in Pasadena on August 12 and will make their home in that city.

B&PW Club Officers Appointed

Several appointments were made when Palm Springs Business and Professional Women's Club met Tuesday evening, for a dinner meeting at the Palm Springs Biltmore.

President June Travers presided, and Eudora Whisenant was appointed first vice president to fill the unexpired term left vacant when Gwen Workman recently left Palm Springs. New member, La Vaun Belt, after induction ceremony, was named insurance chairman. Sally Oht will fill the position of attendance records chairman; and Wilma Wilson, who was congratulated on her new appointment as vice president and escrow officer of Pearson, Scott & Company's Palm Springs office, will serve as chairman of committee for women in appointive public office.

Bernice Jacobson gave an interesting and informative talk on the subject of parliamentary procedure after which a "practice" session was conducted in which all members were asked to participate.

Guests attending were Thelma Saxton, Mary Prenevost, Jane Lacey and Dorothy Lubach. Fern Scott, president of the B & P W's Cathedral City Club was also a guest, as well as Arvelle Allred of that group.

The next meeting will be a pot-luck picnic supper, at 7 p.m., July 8, at Tamarisk Park. Betty Luce is chairman for this event and may be called at FA 5-2064 or FA 5-7221 for further information.

Gottbehuets Enjoying Trip

The Claude Gottbehuets, long time Villagers, are aboard the Arosa Sky, a beautiful 20,000-ton ship owned by the Swiss, decorated by the French and manned by a German crew. They are Europe bound with their first stop being Bremerhaven, Germany, where the ship will dock.

The Gottbehuets are having a wonderful time aboard ship, dancing, attending the first run movies, and taking the foreign language course provided for the passengers.

They report the seven-course luncheons and the nine-course dinners are worked off by the many social activities on shipboard.

One of the nice surprises the Gottbehuets received when they arrived on shipboard was the beautiful bouquet of flowers in their stateroom sent by George and Janice Olman of Palm Springs.

St. Paul's Guild Plans Outing

The Guild of St. Paul's in the Desert Episcopal Church will meet at the Idyllwild home of Mrs. Jules Springer on July 8 at 12:30 noon, with husbands invited to attend. Coffee, iced tea and dessert will be served by the hostesses, Mrs. Springer, Mrs. Frank Camp and Miss Hazel Gross, with Guild members bringing their own sandwiches as usual.

Those planning to attend please notify Mrs. Hilton McCabe (FA 4-2112) not later than July 4.

ANNOUNCED THIS WEEK is the coming marriage of Muriel (Skip) Lawson who will be the bride of Henry M. Moffat, Los Angeles attorney, on August 12. (Canby Photo).

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Pair

On Wednesday, June 18th, at 1 p.m., in the solemnity of the Latter Day Saints Temple in Los Angeles, Elder Henry D. Taylor, assistant to the Twelve Apostles of the church of Jesus Christ Latter Day Saints, united in marriage Sharon Sue Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Stanley Smith of Cathedral City and Archie Nelson Stone of Idaho Falls, Idaho, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Stone of Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada, in an impressive double ring ceremony.

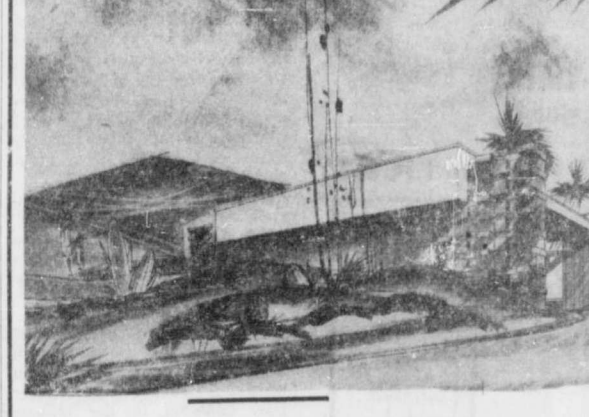

The lovely bride was radiant in a floor-length gown of chantilly lace over white satin with her fingertip veil set in a halo of chantilly lace and pearls. Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Tamara, and the best man was Larry Smith of Rexburg, Idaho, close friend of the groom. Bridesmaids were Ann Daniel and Eleanor Wiswell of Palm Springs with the bride's younger sisters, Sandra and Candace, as junior bridesmaid and flower girl. Acting as ushers were the bride's brother Keith and her uncle Dexter Teeter of Los Angeles.

The program and reception, attended by 120 relatives and friends, was held at 8 p.m. in the Latter Day Saints Chapel in Banning. The program was conducted by president Dean Gilchrist of the Palm Springs Branch, and the speakers were Mary Lou Hall, Paul G. Payne and George M. Ray. Hazel Micelli, Nanci Gardner and Wilen Anderson sang solos accompanied at the piano by Cynthia Rojo who also played piano and organ solos.

Punch was served with the three-tiered wedding cake that centered the table beautifully decorated with white roses, gladioli and stocks.

The happy couple slipped away for a honeymoon in Southern California and Mexico and are now at home in Idaho Falls, Idaho.

Add a pinch of cloves to tomato soup or ginger to black bean soup before heating.

O'Dowd-Menillo Wedding Vows Said Wednesday

Patricia Mennillo and Carl Joseph O'Dowd repeated their wedding vows Wednesday afternoon at a double ring ceremony in the offices of Judge Eugene Theriau.

Attending the bridal couple were Margaret Bratten and Robert Hoorn.

Following the wedding a reception for a few close friends was held in the Signature Room for close friends. Among them were Henry Cleary, Mr. and Mrs. Willard McKinney, Harold Simon, and the wedding attendants.

The couple will make their home in Palm Springs where she is manager of the Southland Escrow Corporation and he is in the public relations department with Riverside Title Company of Riverside.

TOASTING EACH OTHER at their wedding reception at the Signature Room are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Joseph O'Dowd, who were married Wednesday. The bride is the former Patricia Helen Menillo. (Desert Sun Photo).

J.C. Ettes Plan For J.C. Luau Next Month

Plans for the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce luau, which will be held at the Desert Inn sometime in July, were under discussion Wednesday night when J.C. Ettes held their monthly meeting at the home of Norma Huffman.

The affair will be under the co-chairmanship of Bunny Fisher and Lois Schlect, assisted by the following committee: Elaine Land, Pat Wahlberg, Judy Colton, Roz Bronstein, Barbara Mutascio, Betty Muhleck, Barbara Dille and Betty Bergeron.

Following a report on the national J.C. convention held last week in Los Angeles, a committee was named to plan Palm Springs publicity for the state board meeting in San Francisco in August. Assisting chairman Roz Bronstein will be Norma Smith, Bunny Fisher, Norma Huffman, Elaine Land, Betty Muhleck and Barbara Mutascio.

Ice cream floats and assorted cookies were served following the meeting, by the hostess Norma Huffman, assisted by Elaine Land and Betty Muhleck.

The Sagacious Squirrel got the squirrel habit in the beginning of his life. When his mother gave him his first nickel, he squirreled away 1c right off the bat. He didn't even know he was sagacious until he got to high school and found out that sagacious means wise. The Sagacious Squirrel kept right on being wise: squirrelling away his money in Security Bank where it earns more money all the time. Today the Sagacious Squirrel is sitting on TOP OF THE HEAP. Adams Case Shakes Public Trust In Government

Every National Administration, from the time of George Washington on, and regardless of the particular political party in power, has been plagued on occasion by some persons in high governmental positions "peddling" or bestowing their influences improperly for the benefit of favored firms and individuals.

While the case of Sherman Adams at this point appears pallid compared to the fur coats, deep freezes and Cadillacs distributed during the heydays of the New Deal for governmental municipalities, the acceptance of even personal "expenses" by one in so high a position as presidential advisor is a disturbing shock and inexcusable action from the public standpoint.

In these days almost every business, and for that matter the great majority of individual citizens are under some form of governmental regulation which vitally affects their daily lives.

Industries of all kinds and business in general are particularly dependent upon governmental actions, decisions and regulations for their continued existence and success or failure in many instances. Particularly is this true with regard to the various commissions and bureaus which supervise and regulate commerce of the nation in its many fields ranging from agriculture to radio and television.

Doubtless there are thousands of "good will" gifts annually sent to persons high and low in government of office or employ. Most of these are probably motivated by the same spirit as the sending of tokens to celebrities and others momentarily high in public notice or acclaim.

But when so much as one such incident can be pin pointed as having been made and received with the intent or obligation of "buying" influence for favors from the government, the matter then becomes a serious one in which both the giver and the recipient should be openly and summarily dealt with.

The "indiscretions" already admitted by Sherman Adams are enough to end his usefulness and destroy public trust and confidence in his position as advisor to the President.

Nothing short of his resignation or forthright discharge will suffice as an example in restoring and assuring honesty as the first law and paramount virtue in all branches of government.

How to Back Off from Mistakes

WASHINGTON, D. C. — To the rear, march! Despite much palaver about progress, the ability to beat a strategic retreat is universally regarded as essential in warfare and boxing. The same is true in legislative affairs, as the 85th Congress and the Eisenhower Administration have both demonstrated at this session.

In Congress: Although lawmakers at this session have raised the national debt limit, there is legislation in the opposite direction. Among the unreported bills are two by Senator Bill Knowland (R., Cal.), who is singing his swan song as a national legislator, in itself a voluntary retreat.

ONE KNOWLAND bill (S. 547) would permit Americans to make gifts from reducing the $275,861,797,608.00 national debt. Each year gifts from public-minded persons and "conscience money" from cheaters on their taxes are offered in five digits to the Federal government. The offerings are regularly rejected since there is no established procedure of acceptance.

But Knowland would provide that the Secretary of the Treasury be authorized to accept money and to apply it directly to a special debt-reduction fund. The same bill provides that the Administrator of General Services may accept any gift-property, dispose of it for money and send the proceeds to the Federal Treasury.

KNOWLAND'S OTHER bill (S. 546) permits funds deriving from the sale of Federal property to go into the debt-retirement fund. Under the Knowland bills, there is no reason why Sherman Adams could not contribute any of Bernard Goldfine's gifts that prove embarrassing. They would reduce the financial obligation of all future Americans.

At the White House: Although

AS TO A SUMMIT meeting with the Communist Head of State, the secret trials and executions in Hungary are the overt reasons for covert retreats from this risky plan. The back-peddling represents a success for Secretary of State Dulles, who never did believe that President Eisenhower had anything to talk about with Premier Khrushchev.

In Congress: The subject of recognizing, trading with or admitting to the United Nations of Red China has been subtly pushed this year on Capitol Hill, as elsewhere. In the California election for Governor, Red China could be an important but hidden issue. The California Democratic groups have favored it, although their gubernatorial candidate, Pat Brown, has not.

SOME CALIFORNIA business interests have also favored it, but Republican candidate Bill Knowland remains adamant in his long-time opposition. Generally, around the country, it is assumed that the American people have softened on this subject and are apathetic in their former hatred of this national enemy.

But a reversal of this tendency recently occurred in a southern city where a southern Congressman spoke at a semi-private dinner in favor of trading southern farm products for Iron Curtain minerals.

Since the story was given me in confidence, I withhold the Congressman's name; but he was astonished at the adverse response to his suggestion. Merchants who stood to profit by the trading plan spoke up against it. The Congressman, who knows when the people speak, reversed his field and has dropped the subject from future campaign talks.

AT THE WHITE HOUSE: Most of the advice going to the President on education has been full of pessimism and poverty-talk. A reversal of this trend shows up in a book, "School Needs in the Decade Ahead," by Roger A. Freeman, who served as consultant on school finance to the White House Conference on Education, Mr. Freeman's 300-page book is loaded with charts and statistics, but there emerge these signs of retreat from emergency-always:

... if schools concentrate on subject-matter teaching and eliminate frills ... school funds will not need to rise much ...

RUSSIA IS NOT "ahead" in school support, and Americans have no need to apologize. "Since the turn of the century, enrollment has doubled, national income multiplied twenty-five fold, school expenditures multiplied sixty fold."

"Factual analysis shows that a teacher and classroom shortages ... have been greatly exaggerated and ... are rapidly diminishing. The U. S. Office of Education reported a need for 370,000 classrooms in fall 1954, in fall 1957 ... 140,400. Within a few years ... 70,000 classrooms a year."

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow with a nice home, a good automobile and some money in the bank. A friend fixed me up with a widower who is supposed to have plenty of money. On our first date he told me he left his money in his other trousers and I had to pay for the gas. (He filled his tank.) He said he didn't care for public places because they were too noisy, so we came home and I fixed us some dinner. He mentioned several times that he doesn't believe in spending foolishly and he is saving his money for his old age. I am 62 and he is past 70. Would you say he was cheap or just conservative?

WONDERING DEAR WONDERING: Don't be so concerned about HIS money—just watch yours. This man is an old hand at saving his money and spending somebody else's. Include him out of your plans, unless you want to support him.

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 years old and my boyfriend is 19. We love each other very much and expected to be married when we got enough money saved. About two months ago he told me he went to see a girl just for one thing and now this girl told him she was having a baby and it is his. Do you think she can make him marry her? She is only 16 and has a terrible reputation any way. Abby, we are very much in love and need your help. LINDA

DEAR LINDA: The girl is under age and your boyfriend could be in some very serious legal trouble. No law in the land can force a man to marry, but he has the financial responsibility to face.

DEAR ABBY: I have some advice for that woman who wrote in your column saying her husband beat her up. Men who abuse their wives are cowardly brutes and ignorant as well, but they mend their ways when they get a taste of their own medicine. That is the only thing they understand. I recall a 250-pound neighbor who came home very drunk to the disgust of his tiny wife. She helped him to bed and when he was soundly sleeping she tied him there with a clothesline and then beat the daylight out of him with the bed slat. He told about it himself later, he was so proud of her courage.

L. C. L. DEAR L.C.L.: I wouldn't recommend this for the average tiny wife. Her husband might not take the same attitude.

DEAR ABBY: I just got a wedding invitation and am so shocked I can't believe my eyes. It says, as big as life, "CASH GIFTS ONLY, PLEASE" right on the invitation. Are people losing their minds over money or what?

SHOCKED DEAR SHOCKED: The person who sent you the invitation obviously has. I've never seen or heard of such poor taste.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SUE: Chuck Chuck!

Exhortations are vain
For the ones who should heed,
Are those goofy drivers
Who perhaps cannot read.

Sure, I know it is only June 27 and the Glorious Fourth and its three-day holiday is still a week away.

But now is as good a time as any to start talking about it. Not that it will do much good. All of the appeals, warnings by Safety Councils, and the editorials after the holiday, decrying the carnage are, except for the date, the same as they have been for the past ten years.

IT'S SAD TO THINK about it but almost 300 people, safe and sound and engaged in useful activities today, have only ten days to live.

For probably that many will be listed in the traffic toll next weekend.

During the coming week there'll be appeals to motorists in the newspapers and on the air. But they'll be wasted. The accident-prone driver isn't going to listen to a lot of busybodies who should be minding their own business.

Besides—"it can't happen to me."

AFTER YEARS of futile appeals, it seems to me it's about time to try another method—tighten the motor vehicle code. Legislators seem loth to do this. Might offend some of their constituents.

But I bet if they took a poll, they'd find that the good, careful drivers who, after all are in the majority and who would not be afraid of stricter laws, would be in favor of a "get tough" policy.

PERIODICAL CHECK-UP of cars, of drivers and—here's where I probably lay myself open to being burned at the stake—plain clothes highway patrolmen and plain colored cars. Armed with movie cameras to get the evidence then and there. Of course, it might be well to let the fool drivers alone and they soon would exterminate themselves.

Only trouble is that, in so doing, they would take a lot of innocent people with them.

NOW TO QUIT griping and dwell on something more pleasant.

Ninety years ago this week there was an invention which I think ranks second in importance to the discovery of the wheel.

The U. S. Patent Office on June 23, 1863, issued a patent on a "typewriting machine," the granddaddy of all of the typewriters of today.

THE WHEEL I rank first. It swept locomotion off its feet. The typewriter took the pen out of hand.

Of course, beautiful chirography is still to be admired. But how many have it? With the invention of C. L. Scholes, a Wisconsin printer, in 1868, the handwriting was on the wall.

By the way, Scholes who invented the typewriter, was a printer. Probably designed it in self defense because he couldn't read what editors were writing.

And the printers in The Sun composing room, deciphering my two-finger typing system, are probably muttering:
"Can't see where Scholes solved anything."

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

Up and breakfasting early on bacon and eggs and feeling remarkably hearty on such a sunny morning. In fact, felt like beating on chest. In fact, did beat on chest — first making sure nobody was watching.

Felt sharp pain in chest. Immediately filled with gloom. Made tender examination, mentally drawing up will and preparing for worst. Discovered pin left by laundry. Removed pin. Beat on chest again. Felt wonderful.

I OWE MY excellent health to the loving care I give to me. I do a good deal of it by witchcraft.

This morning I took two vitamin pills. (The bottle says take one. But I think BIG.) I pay little attention to the label. The label says these pills contain B1, B2, B6 and B12. What happened to all the B numbers inbetween?

WHO CARES? I take these pills because they are bright yellow.

It is a color I happen to like. If they had powder-blue pills, I would take those. Thus we are led down the garden path: Vitamins, plentymins, octamins, lot-samins.

PILLS ARE GETTING mighty tasty these days. (My pills taste like raspberry.)

Believe me, it was not always so. And when I was small and easy to dose, the things they poured down me tasted awful. The worse it tasted, the better it was for you was the idea.

WHEN GRANDMA took me by the pinkies and led me toward the medicine chest, I knew whatever was in store was not chocolate ice cream.

Our pills were in powders. The powder was folded in an oblong piece of paper. About the size of a stick of chewing gum. While you stood there shuddering, your grandmother unfolded one of these. She drew a glass of water.

"OPEN YOUR MOUTH and put out your tongue," she said. You put out your tongue and she dumped the powder on it. Then you took a big swallow of water. Wormwood and gall! It makes me squirm just to think about it.

Well, this kind of medicine makes you hardy. Only the strong among us survived.

WE HAD STRONG remedies. Mustard plaster was about the best thing you could do for a chest cold. It nearly suffocated you. But it was highly thought of.

It gave you a will to recover. Nowadays, all the pills are so pleasant, you can keep your mind on your illness. But when grandma took hold, all you were aware of trying to shed was the cure.

ABOUT THE MOST powerful remedy in those rugged days was castor oil. You had a choice: You could take it neat, with your grandmother gripping your coat collar and nose. Or you could take it with orange juice. And the same grip.

One thing you could not do. You could not stall.

"The sooner, the quicker," said my grandmother cheerfully. Down the hatch. Ugh!

THIS TREATMENT was good for a number of things. It was good for stomachache. (Which you got from eating the first green apples.) It was good for growing pains and hives and loss of appetite. If you sneaked cookies and didn't want dinner, for instance.

If you confessed the cookies, you got licked.

If you didn't, you got castor oil.

SOMETIMES WHILE taking my delicious vitamin pills, I think about those unvitaminated days. I grew up exceedingly healthy. And what I think is, it was a good thing I grew up fast. They almost got me.

EARL WILSON:

How Sophia Got Her Handbag

MADRID — When we go out shopping around this part of the world, we're often reminded of the time that Sophia Loren admired a handbag that the Beautiful Wife was lugging around Spain.

"I must have just such a bag!" Sophia exclaimed. "Where did you ever get it?"

"My husband got it for me on 5th Av. for Christmas," the B.W. said.

"Oh, they have such wonderful things in America!" breathed the Italian star. "When you go back home, you must send me one."

When the B.W. returned, she shopped for one for Sophia. The bag was big, black and bulky, with a compartment which you locked and in which you could carry jewelry, in case you had any jewelry. It weighed eight pounds empty and, so it turned out later, some of the most famous women in America, like Betty Furness and Dagmar and Eleanor Holm and Molly Berns, carried one — or had some escort carry it for them, since the thing was so heavy.

"The duty on this bag is going to be rather heavy," the salesman told the B.W.

"Oh, well, they're paying, and they want it," the B.W. said — she's very generous like that — and so the bag was sent off to Spain.

Sophia found it so expensive that she allowed her movie company to pay for it. That being the case, she was happy about it until some pecksniffian accountant, going over expense bills, wondered whether Sophia shouldn't pay for it.

How that came out, we never learned. However, the bag, being very heavy even when empty, put a big strain on the handle, and one day the strap weakened. Sophia had to get the bag repaired. It was so valuable that she couldn't cast it aside.

Sophia sent the bag off to her favorite bag shop in Rome, her home town.

"America makes such wonderful bags!" exclaimed Sophia. "Why don't you make something like this?"

"This is our bag!" the man retorted. He pointed proudly to his label. Sophia not only could have bought the bag in her home town, but being Sophia Loren and a friend of the manufacturer, she could have had a gross of them for nothing.

The moral of this is that the B.W. and I do our shopping back in New York—or maybe even back in Ohio and Illinois where we come from.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

You've Gotta Leave to Succeed

HOLLYWOOD — You've gotta leave Hollywood to make Hollywood want you — as witness Anne Bancroft. She kicked around Tinseltown for years, trying to make the grade. Columbia signed her, then dropped her. Fox picked her up, then dropped her. Then she went to Broadway and now the same studios are trying to get her back at 20 times what they were paying her in the first place.

Tom Gilson is another shining example of the poem — "Full many a rose is born to blush unseen and waste its sweetness on the desert air." Fox dropped him, too. He headed back to Manhattan, got some stage experience, and now Fox picked him out of a group of hopefuls (including Tab Hunter, Ricky Nelson, Earl Holliman and Dennis Hopper) for a co-starring stint with Joanne Woodward and Paul Newman as the hillbilly singer in "Rally 'Round the Flag, Boys!"

TOM, INCIDENTALLY, is rehearsing his "country-type" song for "Flag" minus his good right gear finger. He sliced it to the bone when he tried to slice himself a piece of Parmesan cheese.

"Flag" director director Leo McCarey wrote Tom's song himself. It's called "Be My Boonjum." Leo describes it as "the most horrible hillbilly song ever written." It starts like this: "I'll swing from a star and play my guitar if you'll be my boonjum." ... Definition of a boonjum (McCarrey made the word up): Girl friend.

ELBOW-TO-ELBOW at Edie Fisher's Tropicana opening in Las Vegas: Liz Taylor and Rock Hudson ... Screenwriters are grinding out Jimmy Dean-type scripts like mah-jongg sets in the '20s, all the way from Canarsie on the rockbound slopes to Capistrano on the sunny coast so MGM is beating its brains out trying to whip the highly censorable Walter Ross novel it purchased recently, whose leading character is more than vaguely reminiscent of the late, great actor.

British producer Sidney Bernstein already has a Dean scrip. "The Myth Makers," ready to roll. It's based on Bill Bast's book, "James Dean: A Biography."

MARGO AND EDDIE Albert, who just adopted a little Spanish orphan, will next adopt a Korean child ... Ronnie Knox's sister Pat, following in her athletic brother's footsteps, enrolled for Sandy Meisner's summer dramatic courses here in Hollywood. But Harvey Knox, their father, has been ordered barred from the seminars by Meisner.

You can't turn around on the Sunset Strip these days without tripping over a movie star's entry in the Strip's First Annual Art Exhibit — like Tony Quinn, who peers out of the windows of a restaurant called the Har Omar to see if anybody is buying his oils from the sidewalk displays. Best painting of the lot, for my money, is Claire Trevor's — a beautiful one of a soulful-eyed East Indian child.

Sal Mineo admits he's in the market for a bride. Here's his ideal (and this kid isn't asking much — MUCH!): A teenage, Italian-type gal who looks a little bit like Brigitte Bardot and who has Irish-blue eyes and can cook good Jewish dishes.

TV TOPICS — Jean Wald and Her All - Grandmother Band will make their network debut on Ed Sullivan's July 27 show doing imitations of every orchestra under the sun, from Lawrence Welk's to Count Basie's.

Kuldip Singh swung from TV into the saloon circuit, opening at the Hesperia Inn halfway between Hollywood and Las Vegas singing his Singh-songs in English, German, Yiddish, Italian, French, Spanish and Hindi!

PRODUCER HAL Roach went to New York to sell some sponsors on the idea of bankrolling George Sanders' new series, The Fabulous Oliver Chantry — about a dilettante-type newspaper columnist active to the one portrayed by Clifton Webb in "All About Eve."

Two cute girl dancers on an Eddie Fisher show were walking home from the studio when one turned to the other and asked, "Do you have a funny feeling that we're NOT being followed?"

PAT O'BRIEN WILL get off his commercial kick for a while and host - & - narrate NBC-TV's new Police Hall of Fame series ... Fox okayed pretty Pat Powell's petition to break the terms of her contract and do outside TV films. FILMS, mind you. The movie studio heretofore has forbidden all save a favored few to do anything but live television. So maybe we've reached the millennium.

Marta Fuller, wife of the same studio's top thriller producer, Sammy Fuller, saw an actor named Jim Best on Jukebox Jury. Peter Potter's teleshow. She told her husband about Jim. Sam called him in and signed him for the lead in his new movie, "Verboten."

ED SULLIVAN wired Ricky Layne for permission to use an old kinescope of Layne and his dummy, Velvel, on a Toast of the Town. Layne wired right back: "Velvel says it's okay to use both of us on film but we must have a live salary."

Young Jack Linkletter, despite all his time out helping on his dad's TV show, finished his junior year at USC with a straight A average ... Sam Marx, who just moved out as MGM - TV's top production panjandrum, re-activated Woodmore Productions, his own indie company, and plans to update Bess Streeter Aldrich's 20-year-old novel, "Miss Bishop," as a teleseries. It's about a modern school teacher and her life away from school.

DESI ARNAZ and American Federation of Musicians moguls are dickering a deal whereby Desilu Productions (Lucy & Desi's own telefilm company) would use live music instead of canned on its shows.

Reason for Barry Sullivan's bow-out of "Cabin B-13," CBS-TV's season - capping Climax!: Barry needed the time to tune up his tonsils for his starring role opposite Elaine Stritch and Russell Nype in "Goldlocks," the new Broadway - bound Walter and Jean Kerr musical.

Eddie Cantor's switch on an old Will Rogersism: "All I know is what I read in the papers but I just read a real estate ad offering a home in Palm Springs for $800,000 and describing it as 'most livable' — but at that price who can AFFORD to live?"

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—You don't need bifocals to understand the current comments of such estimable sports figures as Jack Dempsey, Jack Kramer and Al Lopez.

But you do have to read between the lines.

Consider first, the observations of Dempsey as the old Manassa Mauler observed his 63rd birthday anniversary.

DEMPSEY APPLIED the spurs and more than a touch of the whip to Floyd Patterson, who wears the heavyweight crown which once adorned the Mauler's head. "Patterson's inactivity hurts him and boxing in general," Dempsey allowed. "When he doesn't fight, the whole game suffers because people lose interest."

Undoubtedly this is true. Patterson, in a year and a half as champion, has made only two title defenses.

YET, CONSIDERING Dempsey's comments, isn't it strange that he himself is remembered, and rightfully so, as one of the all-time greats of the ring?

Because, in the seven years and two months he held the heavyweight title—beating Jess Willard on July 4, 1919, and losing finally to Gene Tunney in September, 1926—Dempsey made only five title defenses.

DEMPSEY DEFENDED twice in 1920, against Billy Miske and Bill Brennan; once in 1921, against Georges Carpentier; failed to defend in 1922; defended twice in 1923, against Tommy Gibbons and Luis Firpo; went two years without a defense, and finally met Tunney—exactly three years after his last title defense. Which means that if Patterson climbs through the ropes once in the next year and a half he'll be exactly even with the immortal Manassa Mauler's time table.

WRICH BRINGS us to Kramer, the pro tennis czar.

Arriving in England Tuesday, Big Jake hastily reassured the all-England court moguls that he wasn't there to raid the amateur ranks for fresh pro talent and, horrors, had no idea of trying to put his circus into hallowed Wimbledon.

"I have no intention of trying to get dates at Wimbledon," he said.

BUT BEFORE emplaning for England, Kramer said he had inside information that Wimbledon would be receptive to giving him dates and that he would see about putting on a pro tournament there with his pros, who were Wimbledon champions, as the main attraction.

I know he said this. He said it to me.

THEN THERE'S Lopez, one of baseball's finest managers but a man burdened with an atrocious lack of talent on the field.

The good senior's hirelings are looking at the Yankees through the wrong end of the baseball telescope. They are so far back they should be wearing the original sack uniforms of the golden 20's. But Lopez says:

"We still have a chance of catching the Yankees."

Well, what do you expect him to say?

But, as you can see, you have to read between the lines.

Musial Receives Largest Number Of Votes Cast

By NORMAN MILLER
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—Stan Musial was a near-unanimous choice today for the 1958 major league All-Star game, but many perennial favorites including Ted Williams, Yogi Berra, Ed Mathews and Harvey Kuenn were passed up in the voting by the men who know the game best.

Major league players, managers and coaches, picking the eight starters on each All-Star team for the first time, in nearly every case honored 1953 performances over the time honored reputations of some of baseball's greatest stars.

IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE, they chose left fielder Bob Cerv of the Athletics over Williams, and catcher Gus Triandos of the Orioles over Berra.

In the National, they favored converted third baseman Frank Thomas, outfielder Bob Skinner and second baseman Bill Mazeroski, the members of the Pirates who got off to excellent starts this season.

SO DRASTIC WAS the shakeup of All-Star choices that five of the 16 starters never have been picked even as a reserve before this.

Here are the players chosen to start the 25th annual All-Star game at Baltimore's Memorial Stadium, July 8, with batting averages through Wednesday in parentheses:

Side Winders Lead in Minor League Action

The Side Winders entry in the Minor League holds a commanding lead after the first three weeks, being undefeated in five games.

Tied for second place are the Red Sox and Dodgers, with two wins and three losses, and in fourth spot are the Yankees with a 1-4 record.

The Minor League plays every Monday and Friday nights at the Rodeo Grounds, at 7 and 8:30 p. m. It is co-sponsored by the Little League Commission and the Park and Recreation Department.

Admission is free to games, and more than 80 children between the ages of 8 and 12 are now participating in the program.

Games tonight have the Dodgers playing the Yankees at 7 p. m., and the Side Winders meeting the Red Sox at 8:30.

Gordon Returns As Manager

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—A "real excited" Joe Gordon returned to the city where he hung up his spikes as an active player today and took over as the new manager of the Cleveland Indians.

Braves Find Dodgers Tough As Ever, Lose Again 4-1

By United Press International

The Dodgers have a date for the World Series — to watch it on television — and just so no one can call 'em Bum sports, they're trying to get the Braves to join them.

The Dodgers are still mired in last place but they're No. 1 on the list for giving Milwaukee trouble this season.

THEY HAVE NOW beaten the World Champion Braves eight times in a row since last Sept. 12.

Don Drysdale did the honors last night with a 4-1 triumph over the Braves that sliced their National League lead to one and a half games.

The lanky 21-year-old fastballer set down Milwaukee on eight hits and added a bit of icing to the victory cake with a seventh-inning homer off loser Lew Burdette.

SOUTHPAW JOHNNY Antonelli limited Cincinnati to seven hits in pitching San Francisco to a 5-1 decision. Antonelli was locked in a 1-1 pitching duel with Harvey Haddix until the eighth when the Giants rallied for four runs, including Orlando Cepeda's 15th homer with two men on base.

The St. Louis Cardinals beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-2, for their sixth straight win in the only other National League game scheduled.

HECTOR LOPEZ of the Kansas City Athletics supplied the big noise in the American League with three home runs that sank the Washington Senators, 8-6, in 12 innings.

Lopez' third homer of the game came in the 12th with one on off Vito Valentini and earned ageless Murry Dickson his sixth victory.

TED WILLIAMS' ninth homer of the year in the eighth inning powered the Boston Red Sox to a 2-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians. Williams hit his tie-breaking homer off Cal McLish, who also was tagged for a seventh-inning homer by Dick Gernert.

Southpaw Jack Harshman of the Orioles turned in his third shut-out of the campaign by beating the Tigers, 2-0, with a five-hitter.

The victory was Harshman's sixth. Oriole Bob Boyd homered in the sixth.

Hitless relief pitching over the last 2 2/3 innings by Bobby Shantz and Art Ditmar helped the Yankees to a 4-3 triumph over the White Sox.

Scores Thursday
DHS-Mhoon & Mhoon 13, PD Junior Chamber 7.
Biltmore 7, Builders Supply 0.

Neal Green pitched a no-hit no-run game last night at the Polo Grounds while his Palm Springs Biltmore teammates were knocking in seven runs to extend their undefeated string to five games.

The victim this time was the Palm Springs Builders Supply and the win gave the Biltmore a lead of one full game in the Desert Softball League over the second place Mexican Colony.

GREEN STRUCK out 17 players, the best strikeout performance of the season, while walking six. Two times Builder's Supply runners reached third base, but couldn't score. The only ball hit out of the infield against Green was by Sal Valdivia, but it was caught by D. D. Hines.

After scoring one run in the second inning to go ahead, the Biltmore added four more in the third and two in the sixth.

THE RUN in the second came on a home run into right field by O. B. Crawford. Keith Smith lashed out with two triples for the winners and Larry Purnell came through with a single and a double.

However, in the big four run third frame all the Biltmore runs were unearned. They came on four walks, two fielders' choices and one sacrifice.

For Green it was his fourth victory this season without defeat. No team has managed to score while he was pitching this year.

IN OTHER LEAGUE action last night, Desert Hot Springs-Mhoon and Mhoon scored an easy 13-2 win over the Palm Desert Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Paul Neilsen hurled a five-hitter to take credit for the win, with Bill Smyth taking the loss.

Charley Brown paced the winners with a home run, triple and double, while Jim Schilling and Richard Reakes were top batsmen for the losers with a double and single apiece.

YOU'RE LOOKING at basketball's highest-paid player, Wilt (The Still) Chamberlain, the 7-foot former University of Kansas star, who signed a one-year contract for $65,000 to play with the Harlem Globetrotters. Beaumont Wins With 8-Run 3rd

An eight run third inning gave the Beaumont Elks the lead they needed to go ahead and beat the Coachella Valley Contractors Association at the Polo Grounds last night in a Pony League game by a score of 10-7.

Although the local team fought back behind the powerful hits of Paul Tomlinson and Gus Walton they were unable to overtake Beaumont.

THE C.V.C.A. TEAM had gone briefly ahead when Tomlinson singled and Walton tripled to drive him in in the first inning. Then came the deluge.

Twelve Beaumont players marched to the bat in the third and eight of them scored on four hits and three errors, with some walks thrown in for measure.

PALM SPRINGS came back with two runs in the bottom of the inning and four more in the fourth to make it 8-7. Walton's three run double was the key blow in the surge.

But Beaumont fought off the attack and managed to score once on their own in the sixth and the seventh. The winning pitcher was Steve Fitch who was relieved in the fourth by Dave Valdivia.

County Canal Fencing Problem Pops Up Again

The problem of fencing canals in populated areas of the county arose again this week when Supervisor Curtis Chamberlain told his fellow supervisors that a child was nearly drowned in a canal adjacent to the Riverside city limits in his district and that he is "getting a lot of pressure" to have the fencing which the city put up to the city limits extended into the county for a distance of one block.

"The board has been in favor of requiring that canals be fenced in populated areas," said Supervisor William Jones, "but we have always been advised by county counsel that we could not legally impose such a requirement in spotty areas. It would have to be applied county-wide involving many miles of canals in unpopulated areas."

At the suggestion of Supervisor Paul Anderson the problem was again referred to county counsel for a report. The outcome of previous canal fencing demands is an ordinance which requires that canals in new subdivisions must be fenced by the subdivider.

Voter Precinct Notice Change Is Suggested

A breakdown of election precinct notices and publishing of the notices in local newspapers serving the areas in which they are located was suggested this week by Maxwell Whitney, Banning publisher.

Whitney pointed out to the Board of Supervisors that the notices are now published in only one newspaper. He expressed belief that the intent to serve notice to the voters will be better served by publishing in local papers.

"It would cost no more," said the publisher. "You determine the price you pay. Publishing the delinquent tax list on a breakdown basis has proved to be less troublesome."

The supervisors referred the proposal to the county clerk with a request for a report.

Idyllwild Roads To Be Improved

Improvement of two roads in the Idyllwild area on a cooperative basis was approved by the Board of Supervisors this week as recommended by the Planning Commission and road department.

Rim Rock Road will be paved from John Muir Road to San Jacinto Road, a distance of 600 feet at a cost of $1,590 of which $330 will be paid by property owners for liquid asphalt.

Glen Road will be paved from San Jacinto Road to Seneca Road with the property owners paying half the cost of grading and graveling, including tree and shoulder removal, and the entire cost of oil for paving.

Michigan maintains 600 public fishing sites.

Tribal Chairman Tells of Meeting In Washington

Viola Olinger, chairman of the Agua Caliente Tribal Council reported today that Congressman D. S. Saund met Thursday with Louis Sigler, member of the staff of the Solicitor General's office, Department of Interior, to discuss the proposed equalization plan for the local Indians.

Mrs. Olinger said that the local Indians started immediately after the meeting Tuesday night to protest the plan of equalization proposed by the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

The tribal chairman said that the tribe would send a delegate to Washington to seek Congressional intervention on its behalf with the bureau.

According to Rex Lee, legislative director for the bureau, who made the announcement Tuesday night, the plan will take away all of the tribal land holdings and parcel them out to Indians in the tribe. Local tribal holdings now include 26,000 acres, with the famed mineral baths and canyons.

Touch Over Sight

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. —(UPI) — Blind vending stand operator Ernest Mohn examined a newly varnished pine cabinet at the Grand Rapids police headquarters and discovered someone had goofed. Sighted carpenters had the boards on backwards with the unfinished surface on the outside of the cabinet. Mohn discovered the error by touch.

State Park Commission Sets October Meeting in County

Arrangements have been made by Mrs. Gertrude G. Harriman, Hemet, member of the State Park Commission, for the October meeting of the commission to be held at Riverside, it was announced today.

Mrs. Harriman extended the invitation to the commission on behalf of the Riverside County Board of Supervisors and the Board of Trade.

At the meeting called for Friday, Oct. 17, the commission will conduct hearings in the meeting room of the Board of Supervisors at the Court House.

Members of the State Park Commission include Chairman Joseph R. Knowland, Oakland; Robert E. Burns, Stockton; Leo Carrillo, Santa Monica; Robert De-

Giorgio, San Francisco; Charles Kasch, Ukiah; Guilford H. Whitney, San Diego, and Mrs. Gertrude G. Harriman, Hemet.

Planning for this visit of the State Park Commission to Riverside is being handled by the Board of Trade in cooperation with J. H. Covington, executive secretary of the commission.

Feathered Alarm Clock

NAUGATUCK, Conn. —(UPI) — Firemen received a package bearing a note signed "an admiring citizen." The note stated that the signer tried to get into the fire station one day at 7 a.m., but couldn't rouse anyone. The package contained a Bantam rooster.

More than one half of the nation's timber lands are in small tracts owned by farmers, businessmen, professional persons and others not in the timber business.

Local Church Is Commended For Donations

A special message of commendation was received here today by members of the Palm Springs Seventh-Day Adventist Church for their part in making possible a single offering totaling more than one million dollars. The offering was received Saturday at the first Sabbath service of the Adventist world convention in progress in Cleveland, Ohio.

In his message of commendation, R. R. Figuhr, of Washington, D. C., president of the General Conference of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church, cited as an "outstanding achievement" the raising of $300,000 by members on the West Coast, making possible in an offering a total sum of $1,250,832 dedicated to extending the gospel throughout the world.

The sum raised by the members in the Pacific Union Conference, comprising California, Arizona, Nevada, Utah and the Hawaiian Islands was the largest contributed by any union conference in the denomination.

Members of the Palm Springs Adventist Church contributed $204. The world convention of the church opened June 19 and continues through June 28. Hundreds of West Coast leaders and members are in attendance as delegates and visitors.

He Got Tired

CLEVELAND, Ohio —(UPI) — Nick Sustana tired of pitching tents on his many fishing trips so he built a collapsible 16-foot trailer that features two single and one double bunk, a heater, running water and a four-burner gas stove. It can carry a 14-foot boat on top. The roof is raised and lowered with trench jacks in about six minutes. Even when it is collapsed it's possible to enter a rear door for a nap.

ROARING UNCONTROLLED down mountainside at Maltrata, Mexico, this seven-car passenger train leaped rails, crashed through railroad station with loss of at least 40 lives, injuries to 80. The Pullman sleeper, right, and unoccupied dining car were the only units of the train remaining upright after the wild dash down 30 per cent grade. (UPI Telephoto).

Blythe County Building Yard To Be Paved

A plan to pave the 3,500 square-foot area on the south side of the new county branch administrative building in Blythe rather than make it a lawn as previously planned, was presented by Property Management Superintendent Clay Begole and approved by the Board of Supervisors this week.

Begole said the paving would provide six additional parking spaces and eliminate the cost and maintenance of a lawn.

The road crew now in the area will do the work. Estimated cost, according to Begole, is $300.
